

Paul Quin

Partner, Saxon Gilmore & Carraway, P.A.

Paul Quin is a partner at Saxon Gilmore & Carraway, P.A., and concentrates his practice on entertainment law, toxic torts, products liability, medical malpractice, freedom of speech, environmental law, general tort law, and complex business litigation. Mr. Quin has also focused his practice on FELA litigation and railroad law, and is a past member of the National Association of Railroad Trial Counsel. He has spent many years as a professional drummer and remains active in the music industry. Mr. Quin represents musicians in a number of civil, legal arenas. Paul joined the Little Kids Rock Florida Advisory Board in 2015.

Mr. Quin received his B.A. degree, with honors, from Manchester University, England in 1990, his M.A. degree in American History from Louisiana State University in 1992, and his J.D. degree, High Distinction, from the University of Iowa, College of Law in 1998 where he also received the Antonia D.J. Miller Award for Contributions to Human Rights. In 1998, he was admitted to the Missouri Bar, the Western District of Missouri and District of Kansas. Mr. Quin was admitted to the Florida Bar and to the Middle District of Florida in 2001 and has practiced law for over 13 years. He is a member of the Hillsborough County Bar Association, the Florida Bar and the Missouri Bar, as well as a member of the American Bar Association and the American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU).